

Jane Watson – Hotel Manager

Jane started her life in Glasgow, her father worked in the Merchant Navy before transferring his skills to the Glasgow shipbuilding yards. Her mother, a strong Island woman who stayed at home, raised Jane and her 4 siblings. A job opportunity at the Pulp Mill in Fort William brought the family to the Highlands when Jane was 8.

After leaving school Jane joined Inverlochy Castle at 17 working in the laundry. With a young family herself, she progressed through the departments and eventually into the senior management team and finally was appointed the Hotel Manager. It is safe to say Jane has run a tight ship over the years, demanding the highest of standards and service from her team ensuring the Castle's guests receive the most wonderful experience at Inverlochy. She is everyone's Mother; she will scold you like a Mother when needed but give the most love like a Mother would.

Jane is full of passion and perfection when it comes to the Castle and many guests and staff will certainly have a story to tell about her. It is safe to say, to her, after 40 plus years, the Castle is home.
